

REL 687: Global Hinduism

Exploring how mobile middle-class Hindus recreate and redefine religion in new urban and global environments as a context for rethinking the place of religion(s) within rapid world-wide urbanization, migration, globalization, and increasing cultural (dis)integration. Additional work required of graduate students. Graduate standing or junior or senior.