

Teach-in on Charlottesville

Tuesday, October 3rd

7-9 p.m.

Watson Theater - 316 Waverly Avenue

Join members of the Syracuse University community for discussion about, and reflections on, Charlottesville. Addressing historical and contemporary contexts and drawing from personal and academic insights, a panel of faculty come together for this teach-in to listen, learn, and jump-start important dialogues about resistance and forging solidarities within and across our communities, in the classroom and beyond.

Faculty Panel

Zachary Braiterman (Religion; Jewish Studies Program)

Kathleen Feyh (Communication & Rhetorical Studies)

Biko Gray (Religion)

Margaret Thompson (History and Political Science)

Meina Yates-Richard (English)

Moderated by Amy Lutz (Sociology)

Supported by:

African American Studies ♦ Cultural Foundations of Education ♦ History ♦ Jewish Studies Program ♦ Sociology
♦ The Syracuse University Humanities Center ♦ Writing Studies, Rhetoric, and Composition

Communication Access Real-Time Translation (CART) will be provided.